THE ELECTIONS IN FRANCE.

A SUBSTANTIAL VICTORY FOR THE REPUBLICANS.

ANOTHER ELECTION NECESSARY IN MONTMARTRE. THE (GENERAL BOUTANGERS DISTRICT)—BOUTANGERS GAIN A FEW SEATS—NO CHOICE IN MANY DISTRICTS—ORDERLY VOTING THROUGHOUT THE REPUBLIC.

Paris, Sept. 22.—Notwithstanding the fact that an electoral count was proceeding, the streets of Paris early to-day presented a deserted aspect. Rain cleared the boulevards and kept people within doors. The country visitors to the Exhibition left the city yesterday for their respective departments to participate in the elections, leaving the different sections of the Exhibition less crowded than usual. Crowds of electors have thronged the mairies for the last two days, obtaining their voting papers. It was therefore considered improbable that the prediction of a large falling off in the vote would be fulfilled.

The voting began at 8 a. m. Around the electoral urns representatives of the different parties kept assiduous watch. The voting proceeded slowly until afternoon. Groups of electors leisurely deposited their papers and retired in silence. There was no excitement or bustle anywhere.

Telegrams from the provinces reported equal tranquillity. After 3 o'clock the polling places were thronged; still, perfect order prevailed. The crowds were good-humored and there was no apparent tendency to a disturbance. The authorities had taken elaborate precautions against a riot, but there was no display of force in the streets. The soldiers were kept in readiness in the barracks, and the police were massed under cover at various points, with instructions to remain inactive unless compelled to interfere. No trouble was anticipated, however, unless the Montmartre returning officers should decline to count the Boulanger voting papers.

The Elipse circle was confident of a Republican majority. A Boulanger majority was considered utterly improbable. Reports from Montmartre said that even the defeat of Boulanger was possible, although his supporters were using every means to secure his return. The clergy of Montmartre ordered prayers in his favor. The Boulanger Committee is in continuous secret session, directing the contest.

The workmen in the Montmartre District deposited their ballots early, and departed immediately, without exchanging views with their fellows. The demeanor of the electors throughout the day was quiet, and there was no crowding at the polls.

After the closing of the urns there was some excitement in various parts of the city, especially in the Bourse quarter. Here the different parties paraded the streets, the Boulangerists singing popular refrains. There was a great uproar at the offices of the "Presse," where an announcement of Boulanger's victory in Montmartre was displayed on a transparency. The news was received with mingled cheers and hoots by the rival contingents, and, as a fight seemed imminent, the police and mounted guards charged upon and dispersed the crowd. Several persons were arrested.

At 11 o'clock to-night it was said that the vote in Montmartre had been as follows: Boulanger, 7,816; Joffrin (Radical), 5,507; Thiebaut (Republican Revolut.), 444. Subsequently the Prefecture of the Seine issued the official figures of the result in Montmartre, as follows: Registered electors, 18,743; voters, 11,686; blank voting papers, 2,494. Boulanger received 5,880 votes. By these figures a second ballot will be necessary in Montmartre. This result is probably accounted for by the number of "blanks."

In the First Seine District the vote was as follows: Guyot (Republican), 4,493; Turquet (Boulangist), 3,688; Despatys (Conservative), 2,103; Muzet (Republican), 1,462; Petit (Labor), 286. In this district another ballot will be necessary, no candidate having received the requisite majority.

In the St. George District, Andreux (Boulangist) received 5,080; Berger (Republican), 2,957; Strauss (Republican), 2,861. Another ballot will have to be taken.

In the Pantheon District the vote was as follows: Naquet (Boulangist), 4,588; Bournevieu (Republican), 2,770. Another ballot is necessary.

In the Faubourg St. Honoré District the vote stands thus: Passy (Republican), 3,955; Martin (Boulangist), 3,546; Serve (Conservative), 3,511. Another ballot will be taken.

Returns from the provinces are coming in slowly. M. Thevenet, Minister of Justice, is elected in the Second District of Lyons. In the other divisions of Lyons second ballots will be necessary.

In all the divisions of Bordeaux second ballots will have to be taken.

In the First District of Havre, Siegfried (Republican) defeated Marchand (Boulangist).

Other returns are as follows: Belleville-Rochefort, 3,025; Dumay (Labor), 1,090; La Croix (Radical), 1,770; Camille (Socialist), 1,195; Susini (Independent), 405.

Pere-la-Croix-Verger (Boulangist), 5,006; Revillon (Radical), 3,547; Vaillant (Republican), 3,002; Berthaut (Labor), 1,496.

Grandes-Carrières-Lasans (Boulangist), 3,516; Lafont (Radical), 2,965; Nic (Labor), 555; Bin (Independent), 367.

Bourse District—Meunier (Radical), 4,270; Gessier (Boulangist), 3,925; Michau (Republican), 1,873; Gamard (Conservative), 1,714.

St. Gervais-Barodet (Radical), 4,752; Menorval (Boulangist), 4,202; Piprot (Socialist), 585.

De Ville-Chassang (Socialist), 2,005; Thesse (Boulangist), 1,840; Ruel (Republican), 1,638.

Folle-Merisier-Flequet, 4,350; Nicot (Boulangist), 2,954; Allemaire (Labor), 1,139.

St. Germain-Mermeix (Boulangist), 5,046; Cochon (Conservative), 4,743; Freubalt (Republican), 4,492.

In all these districts second ballots will be necessary.

M. Loefer, Minister of Finance, has been elected in Grasse, in the Alpes-Maritimes division, and M. Meline, President of the Chamber of Deputies, in Remiremont, in the Vosges division.

The Boulangerists have gained two seats. Milleve defeated Goblet at Amiens and Count Greffule being defeated in Melun.

M. Flourens is elected in Embrun.

There was a riot at Avignon to-day. A crowd forced the doors of the building occupied by the Boulanger committee, burned the voting papers, and set fire to the building. Thence the crowd went to the Boulanger Club, broke in the doors, wrecked the furniture and drove out the members.

which was furnished with every convenience for writing. The post-offices employed by the Boulangerists were hard at work throughout Saturday night, and the morning found every available space covered. Continuous rain after dusk yesterday evening kept the streets quiet. The display of transparencies by newspapers had been forbidden.

In the Montmartre District there was a free display of placards representing Boulanger upon horseback trampling upon corpses of workmen, and inscribed "Murderer of Communists."

Most of the foreign diplomatic representatives made it a point to be in Paris during the elections. Notable exceptions were the Ambassadors of Germany and Italy.

The boulevards were thronged until midnight. It was much crying of "Down with Ferry!" It is reported that M. Loefer and M. Clemenceau are elected. There appeared to be no chance of the Conservatives winning a single seat in Paris.

Nothing is known of the result in M. Ferry's district. M. Loefer and M. Clemenceau had a good chance of success on the second ballots.

Ten provincial priests have been suspended from their functions for preaching against the Government.

The French residents of this city passed an exciting day yesterday. There has been no election in France for many years which aroused such general interest among her people in foreign lands as that which was to decide in all probability the fate of General Boulanger.

A POSTOFFICE ROBBERED.

BURGULARS DO THEIR WORK SKILLFULLY.

THE POSTMASTER SLEPT SOUNDLY IN THE ROOMS ABOVE WHILE THE SAFE AND STAMP-DRAWERS WERE CLEANED OUT.

Some time between midnight and 6 o'clock yesterday morning expert burglars entered the postoffice at Stapleton, N. J., and took from the safe $2,200 in stamps and money. The postoffice is in Broad street. When Postmaster Macklin went home at 12:30 o'clock yesterday morning he noticed nothing unusual about the postoffice. He tried the front door and found it locked. He then went up to his rooms over the postoffice and went to bed.

When Mrs. Macklin got up at 6 o'clock yesterday morning she went down to the yard and discovered there papers which came from her husband's office. She informed her husband, who went to the office and found that the place had been entered by burglars. The door was strewn with papers and letters which had been opened and the drawers in the safe were scattered about. The safe was closed so that it could not be opened.

The burglars effected an entrance through a rear window of the printing office in the building and bored holes through a door leading into the press-room. This door they opened and then went to work boring the door leading from the press-room to the postoffice. They also got through this door. The burglars placed hooks on the inside of each door so that they could not be surprised and captured easily in their work. They then went to work on the safe and bored two holes through the combination. They then went to work on the safe and bored two holes through the combination. They then went to work on the safe and bored two holes through the combination.

The safe opened in this way without much difficulty. They secured $200 in stamps and $200 in cash. They opened all the registered letters they could find, and in one instance took a pair of earrings and left the box behind. The burglars apparently got away without being seen by any one. Postmaster Macklin informed the Postoffice authorities of the robbery. He also secured the services of two of Marvin's safe men to go down to the postoffice and open the safe, as the burglars had left the combination in such condition that it could not be operated in the usual way. When the safe was opened it was found that the burglars had removed everything except a two-cent postage stamp and one cent.

NO TRACE OF THE HURLEY BAR ROBBERIES. INVESTIGATION SHOWING THAT ALL THE EMPLOYEES WERE ACCOUNTED FOR.

Hurley, Wis., Sept. 22 (Special).—Superintendent Delaney, of the United States Express Company, advised this morning that three Fisherton detectives here this morning but but he was absolutely not clear of the identity of the robbers has been obtained. It is generally thought that the work was done by experienced "crooks." The neatness and boldness with which the money was taken support this theory. It is certain that the job could not have been done by any employee of the bank, as all were in company with persons who can prove that they were not in company with the robbers.

The theory that the robbers were in collusion with bank employees who knew the combination of the safe is not borne out by circumstances. It was not known to any one about the bank that the money would be brought there till the package containing $4,000 was taken to the bank in a well-known delivery van. The package was taken to the bank in a well-known delivery van. The package was taken to the bank in a well-known delivery van.
